Stephen Joseph Theatre at Weaverthorpe

STEPHEN
THEATRE

Following the success of the Stephen Joseph double bill play last year we have been offered another to be performed on 9th September at 7.00 pm.

a number by Caryl Churchill

Bernard's life is thrown into turmoil when he discovers he has been cloned. Questioning his father, Salter, Bernard delves into his past to reveal a series of unpredictable twists and turns and decisions which have had irreversible consequences for him and his 'brothers'.

What is it like to be one of a number? And are they truly identical? Is it possible to capture something perfect?

Set in the near future, this intriguing play explores the 'nature versus nurture' debate and dares to ask the unanswerable questions that strike at the very heart of what it means to be human.

Twenty:20 by James Quinn

Headingley Carnegie. July 2013. Ace Yorkshire batsman Rick Fielding has been called up at the eleventh hour to represent his country against the old enemy: Australia. The problem is that whilst Rick is a superstar of 'Twenty20' cricket, he's never played a test match in his life.

Can he possibly squeeze in a match winning innings between a celebrity photo shoot for 'Hello' and the quarter finals of Strictly Come Dancing?

A whirlwind tour of today's short attention span world, where Tweeting has replaced the art of conversation, and all we can hope for is 24 hours of wall to wall reality TV.

There is a Children's Corner and everyone is welcome.

Recently as Mrs. Jean Brown was preparing coffee a gentleman came in and gave us a beautiful sponge cake to share as we had our coffee. We suspect that it was from the Community Lunch that had been held in the village the day before, but as Jean didn't know the name of our benefactor we weren't sure just who to thank. It was much enjoyed by all who came and we are very grateful that you thought of our Coffee Morning and brought along such a lovely gift. Thank You!

St Mary's, Luttons Ambo Family tea party and scarecrow competition

A very big thank you to everybody who attended and contributed to making this such a successful and enjoyable afternoon. Well done to all the creative scarecrow designers. The scarecrows made an impressive show outside the church and I know the judging was very difficult and the end results very close. However, many congratulations to the winners.

We managed to raise £484 for St Mary's church, Luttons Ambo, and as ever it was down to all the hard work, support and generous donations of everybody involved. Thank you again.

Weaverthorpe Parish Council

The combined Weaverthorpe Parish Council and North Yorkshire Police surgery will take place from 10:00 till Noon on Sunday 12th September 2010, in Weaverthorpe Village Hall. If you have any points or issues to raise with either authority please come along to raise them there.

Weaverthorpe Parish Council will meet on 20th September 2010 at 7.45 pm in the village hall. Members of the public are very welcome to attend either to see how we conduct our business or to raise any matters that are relevant to the council.

You will have noticed that North Yorkshire Highways have carried out some flood alleviation work at the junction of Main Road and Ropery Lane. This is as a result of the Parish Council lobbying them to resolve the problems there. By the time the Warbler goes to press it is hoped that the work will be complete. This also includes work to the drains on the Sherburn Road to get the water to go into the drains rather than run past them down to Main Road.

New members are always warmly welcomed. Following on from the Weaverthorpe Big Lunch why don't you knock on a neighbour's door and invite her to come to one of our meetings?

Weather Station at Duggleby!

An accountant in Duggleby got so fed up with the 'wrong' weather forecasts of the national meteorological bureau, he has started predicting weather using his own equipment.

Simon Cansick decided to see if he could do better himself and bought his own weather station, positioned it on the roof and linked it to the Internet.

There is a mass of very accurate and detailed information on there and he runs it purely as a hobby so it's completely non-commercial.

Simon prepares his forecasts on his home computer and provides live information — automatically updated every four seconds — 24 hours a day.

It has proved so accurate that farmers in Duggleby are ignoring the Met Office forecasts in favour of his readings.

He now provides data for wind speed, temperature, rainfall and cloud height. The website, www.dugglenet.org, offers predictions for the next 24 hours, graphs on recent conditions and even historical data.

However, he confines his forecasts to within a 16 km radius.

The station also feeds into the worldwide Weather Underground network (www.wunderground.com), which is the world's largest network of personal weather stations - so it's putting Duggleby on the map at last!
